

Home Learning for children with SEND

Communication and Interaction

- As a child I used to love listening to Roald Dahl stories being read to me. As I became a confident reader, I would sit and read alone, lost in the magical world of Roald Dahl!
- Listen to this extract from the very funny, 'George's Marvellous Medicine.'
- <https://www.bbc.co.uk/teach/class-clips-video/english-ks1--ks2-georges-marvellous-medicine-by-roald-dahl/zry7pg8>
- If you have your own copy of the book, have a go at reading it with an adult.

Cognition and Learning

- Imagine you were creating your very own, 'George's Marvellous Medicine' ...
- What would you put into the potion?! Have a go at writing a list of ingredients, make them as yucky as you want!
- Describe what the medicine would look like. What colour would it be? What would it smell like?!
- Can you draw a picture of what you think George and his Granny look like? Let your imagination run wild!

Social, Emotional and Mental Health

- Drawing can help to settle and calm the mind. Get lost in your imagination and take part in this fun art lesson with Pablo, a young boy who turns his life challenges into fantastic adventures!

- Sometimes we all feel a little worried and it might feel like we have butterflies in our stomach. These techniques will help you to stay calm. <https://www.bbc.co.uk/cbeebies/joinin/seven-techniques-for-helping-kids-keep-calm>

Physical and Sensory

- Explore the world around you and go on a sensory seeking hunt!

Information for parents

Dear Parents and Carers,

Thank you so much for all of the time you have spent leaning with your child at home. You have stayed so motivated during the whole of lockdown and this will have had such a positive impact on your child. Keep it up!

I am out on the playground every Tuesday morning, so please say hi as you walk past. I love to see all of your smiling faces!
