

Home Learning for children with SEND

Communication and Interaction

- Both my daughters love listening to and reading stories by Julia Donaldson. One of their favourite stories is, 'The Gruffalo.'
- Listen to the story by clicking on the link below -

- If you have your own copy of the book, have a go at reading it with an adult.

Cognition and Learning

- Have a go at creating your very own picture of the Gruffalo....think carefully about all the details you will need to add to your picture.
- Have a go at creating a Gruffalo mask!
- Ask your family to help you to act out a scene from The Gruffalo.
- Use some play dough or clay to make all of the characters from the book.
- Create your own Wanted Poster for the mouse! Make sure you describe him in detail. Draw a picture of the mouse. Why is he wanted?!

Information for parents

Dear Parents and Carers,

Thank you so much for all of the time you have spent leaning with your child at home. You have stayed so motivated during the whole of lockdown and this will have had such a positive impact on your child. Keep it up!

I am out on the playground every Tuesday morning, so please say hi as you walk past. I love to see all of your smiling faces!
