A Christmas Poem

Santa's Workshop

Santa's workshop is a place of dreams.

Elves working together in teams busy making toys and games, checking lists of children's names.

Wood and glue to get toys made,
paint and glitter is sprayed.
Loud noises of hammers and saws,
the booming voice of Santa Claus.

Stockings filled with candy canes,
toy cars, bears, balls and planes.
Tasty smells of cookies and sweets,
Mrs Claus is cooking lots of treats.

Toy trains race around wooden tracks.
Santa is putting gifts in sacks.
He is laughing and saying, "Ho, ho, ho!
Come on reindeer. We are ready to go!"

The nine reindeer are ready to fly up into the dark, night sky.
Santa waves goodbye to the elves who are feeling very pleased with themselves.
